RE : Docket No. 98N-1265

8271 '99 JUL 27 A10:13

I'm writing in regard to the FDA of pharmacy compounding and denying interstate distribution of compounded drugs.

I wish to explain my situation
in this letter.

I cannot use the synthetic hormones.
They have caused me a lot of problems, as with other women that I have talked with. A lot of women wants what is natural.

-I took responsibility for my health.
I had Womens International Pharmacy to send me their packet on Natural Hormones, with a list of Doctors who are knowledgeable about them.

I made an appointment, the doctor did a bone density test, I was losing a lot of bone. He called Womens Inter.
Pharmacy, a prescription for me. Hormones E1 E2 E3 + progesterone compounded for my individual need. It was a blessing.

This is the best decision I have ever made.
These natural hormones are working wonderful for me.

My husband & I live across the country traveling to his jobs. We live this way all year. He works Nuclear Plants as a QC specialist in the spring & fall. In the summer he works with the IBEW, Electrical Union jobs. As of now we are in Northern Illinois. Our home is in Collins Ga.

I have to call Womens International Pharmacy every 2 months for refills on my natural hormones. They send them to me wherever I am.

If you deny me this right, its going to put me back where I was. I can't travel to the state everytime my prescription needs to be filled.

We must be allowed to have the freedom to make the choices ^{that} we choose. There are many women like me, who wants the natural Hormones.

We should have this right as adults and Americans.

I should be able, my choice, to have my hormones compounded for my individual need, as they work real well for me, and be able to have my prescriptions sent to me where we are with my husbands job.

I have had another bone density test done, after I had been on them for a good while, I'm not loosing bone anymore.

Your memorandum of understanding, considers compounded drugs to be a practicing solicitation, as I understand,

No! its enabling us the consumer, to be allowed our American rights - Our choices.

Please respect them.

Thanking You
